

The Talent for the 2010 Comedy Show at Silver Spring

Jim Dailaikis

Jim has appeared on television shows on VH1, NBC, and in commercials around the world. He performs at the top comedy clubs nationwide such as; The Borgata, Carolines on Broadway, The Laugh Factory and has performed standup in six countries.

He has done extensive work in radio including XM Satellite Radio, Sirius Satellite Radio, and many other stations. A trained actor having studied at schools such as the prestigious Lee Strasberg

Theatre Institute, HB Studios, AIDA and private coaching all in New York City, he is renowned for his broad range taking on any accent and any character including, original, and impression voiceover talents.

Ritch Shydner

Ritch Shydner, with thirty years experience as a standup comedian and television writer, can add, or improve the humor in the spoken word of politicians, entertainers, or any public speaker. The Tonight Show and Late Night with David Letterman.

Ritch has made numerous appearances on the David Letterman and Jay Leno shows, and before that Johnny Carson. He did an HBO half-hour special, "One Night Stand." He played Al Bundy's co-worker on "Married with Children," and made guest appearances on many other TV shows, such as "Designing Women" and "Roseanne." Ritch was able to translate his modest success on TV into a film career, appearing in Steve Martin's, "Roxanne," and Eddie Murphy's, "Beverly Hills Cop II". For the last few years, Ritch was a staff writer on such sitcoms as "Roseanne," "The Jeff Foxworthy Show," and "Titus." Ritch was the Co-Executive Producer and head writer for the HBO show, "The Mind of the Married Man."

Ritch wrote material for Jeff Foxworthy's Grammy nominated comedy albums, "Totally Committed," and "Big Fun." He also wrote for singers Kenny Rogers and Pam Tillis, as well as internationally acclaimed ventriloquist, "David Strassman".

A nationally touring motivational speaker, Steven B. Wiley, used Ritch's service to make his pitch funnier.

Joey Novick

As a professional stand-up comedian and actor, he's appeared on MTV, Rascal's Comedy Hour, One Life to Live and Comedy Central. He's featured regularly at Catch A Rising Star, The Comedy Zone and Dangerfield's and at scores of comedy venues across the country. He's opened in concert for comedy legends Jerry Seinfeld, Ray Romano, Paul Reiser, Chris Rock, Robert Klein and Rosie O'Donnell. He is an award winning speaker, having been presented with the Leadership New Jersey Program Development Award for his United Nation conference program.

As an improv actor, he's had the privilege of appearing with Robin Williams at the Comic Strip in NYC, and studied with Chicago's famed 'Second City' improvisational theater director Del Close. And Joey was hired by the Ricki Lake Show as a comedy coach for young comedians.